Rubber Button Repair!

Fix:
NEC • Walker • Comdial
Executone • AT&T Cordless
Remotes • Cellular & More!

COMDIAL TIP:
 Bruce Clark of Commercial Phone Repair in Jacksonville, FL says that he's found the cause of totally dead keypads. Bruce says to WIPE the traces around the HOLD button on the PC Board. He says he's found flakes shorting the hold button, which kills all the keys!

and... If the Traces Won't Conduct:

- Merlin Membrane Repair #CHM1B: $19.95 Works on mylar (Spirit) circuit boards, and works on solid boards as well!
- Double Stick Tape #CHM1C: $3.50 Double stick tape for Merlin Membrane.
- Micropoint Flex Pen #CHM1J: $19.95 Works on mylar circuit boards.
- Micropoint Repair Pen #CHM1E: $14.95 Works great on solid boards, but won't stick to mylar. Don't use Rubber Button Repair on Traces... it won't stick!

LOOK:

Certain Manufacturers have chosen to use an Ink Coating over a Non-Conductive Rubber Button, instead of a real Conductive Rubber button. This Ink flakes off after a couple of years, guaranteeing that the phone will be back for refurbishing a few times over its life. This is an annuity for these manufacturers. They plan on it. They do it on purpose!

Now you can put that money in YOUR POCKET!

Are you going to go along with THEIR program, or yours?
